NEW NATIONAL ISSUE.

Physicians Would Start Boom for Bonaparte for Presidency.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—The Tribune says: An underground movement which has as its object the election of Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte to the presidency of the United States is in progress. It has come up for breath in Chicago, Washington and Boston, and may be locked to appear briefly in New York and Indianapolis.

So far as is known, it is the only underground campaign which is being conducted and at present there is no evidence to indicate that Bonaparte is aware of the proceedings himself.

The campaign managers are physicians. They have their issue and they have selected Mr. Bonaparte as their candidate. The issue is the "extermination of the criminal classes." The physicians propose to confine habitual criminals "in asylum prisons" for life.

Mr. Bonaparte, as he had made known in his speeches, would hang them. The physicians admit that the habitual criminals should be hanged, but they are afraid that the country is not ready for this. As a compromise, the doctors propose to confine them for life, either in asylums or in a penal colony, and they hope that Mr. Bonaparte can be persuaded to modify his views to agree with their ideas of what is opportune and practical. A republican candidate for president nominated on a platform, the chief plank of which calls for the confinement of habitual criminals, will constitute a favorable beginning in the medical opinion.

The movement is being conducted by confidential correspondence from city to city and is interesting on this account as well as because of its new national issue.

CZAR'S NAME DAY.

Russian Grand Dukes Assembled to Celebrate the Same.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 20.—The name day of Emperor Nicholas, which was celebrated with the usual ceremonies at Tsarskoe-Selo Thursday, has been signalized by an order restoring to the Russian army the picturesque uniform in the reign of Alexander II. This order will transform thirty-five out of the fifty-five soberly-clad dragoon regiments into huzzars and uplanes, whose brilliant and showy garb is expected to popularize the service in the eyes of recruits and the population generally.

All the Russian grand dukes returned from abroad for the celebration of the emperor's name-day. The empress was unable to take part in the festivities on account of illness. Premier Stolypin, the members of the cabinet, M. Khomyakoff, president of the duma and other high civil and military dignataries, went to Tsarskoe-Solo to present their felicitations. The American and other diplomatic representatives attended the festival mass in St. Isaac's cathedral.

KING LAID TO REST

Funeral of Oscar, Late Ruler of Sweden.

BELLS TOLLED A REQUIEM

Along Snow-Covered Route People Stood with Bared Heads—Buildings Draped with Emblems of Mourning Along Route of Funeral Procession.

Stockholm, Dec. 20.—The body of the late King Oscar of Sweden, who died Dec. 8, was interred at noon on Thursday in the Riddarholm church, the burial place of Swedish kings and heroes, with a ceremony, the simple impressiveness of which was accentuated by the widespread evidences of popular sorrow.

Along the snow-covered route of the funeral procession the people gathered and stood bareheaded in the biting cold during the passage of the hearse and the mourners. Every bell in the city tolled throughout the progress of the funeral. Black draperies and other emblems of mourning hung from the fronts of the buildings facing the streets down which the funeral cortege passed, and beside the route was hedged with lines of troops.

Immediately following the hearse walked Gustave, the new king of Sweden, the King of Denmark, and the princes of the Swedish royal house. These members were followed by the special foreign embassies, representing states in all parts of the world.

The queen of Sweden and the queen of Denmark drove to the church. The dowager Queen Sofia of Sweden was prevented by illness from attending the funeral.

The archbishop of Stockholm officiated at the ceremony. The conclusion of the service was marked by a salute of forty-two guns and volley firing by a detail of infantry.

Cut His Throat with Razor.

West Point, Ga., Dec. 20—William M. Stuckey, one of Harris County's prosperous farmers, committed suicide Wednesday morning at his home, near Whitesville, Ga., by cutting his throat. From what can be learned, he had loaded his wagon with seed cotton to take to the ginnery. After loading the wagon, he sent the negro who was helping him to the house to tell his nephew, Sam Crutchfield, to come to the wagon, and when the nephew arrived, found that Mr. Stuckey had cut his throat with a razor. Mr. Stuckey was in a happy mood on Tuesday night, conversing with his neighbors over the rural phone, and no cause for the rash act can be given.

MAJOR CURRY KILLED.

Fatal Automobile Accident Occurs in Atlanta, Ga.

Atlanta, Dec. 20.—Maj. Manley B. Curry, paymaster of the department of the gulf and a son-in-law of United States Senator A. O. Bacon, was killed in an automobile accident in Atlanta Wednesday night.

The accident occurred at the Courtland street end of the Washington street viaduct as Major Curry, in company with Dr. William Carnes, was returning from a visit to the home of the latter's father.

As the automobile, which was being driven by Dr. Carnes, neared the north end of the viaduct it was impossible on account of the poor light to see plainly the concrete divide of the underpass, which leads from Courtland street into Decatur street beneath. The only light in the vicinity being placed at the point immediately over the junction of Decatur and Courtland streets, the light was behind the automobilists, and its shadow cast before them, causing it to seem as if there was a level way where the concrete divide marks the place of the underpass, which divides the viaduct at each end into two passage ways, one on either side.

In the imperfect light Dr. Carnes struck the heavy concrete divide almost in the center. The auto smashed into the railing with full force, and as the machine recoiled from the shock Major Curry was thrown into the air, falling upon the beigian block covered street twenty feet below. Major Curry was carried to the Grady hospital, and died a few minutes later.

Major Curry was an Alabaman, his birthplace being Talladega.

TRAGEDY IN FLORIDA.

Young Man Shoots and Kills His Personal Friend.

Pensacola, Fla., Dec. 20—A special from Argyle, Fla., a small town east of here, says:

Crazed with drink, Alexander Anderson drew a revolver and shot his personal friend, G. A. Wood, in the head, killing him instantly. The two, it is said, had been drinking together, and at the time were sitting in a store talking. There had been no quarrel or harsh words.

Anderson, after firing the fatal shot, staggered from the room to the gallery in front of the store and fired the remaining cartridges in his pistol in the air, after which he fell to the floor in a drunken stupor, and lay there until the sheriff was summoned.

When the sheriff arrived, he placed Anderson, who was still in a semi-conscious condition, in his carriage, and took him to jail. When informed the next morning of what he had done, he was overwhelmed with grief and remorse, and wildly declared he knew nothing of what had occurred.

Both young men are members of prominent families in this section of the state.

AIR-SHIPS TO BE AT JACKSONVILLE

Series of Flight During the Exposition in February.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS ARE GOOD.

Management of Mid-Winter Exposition Will Make the Price of Admission Twenty-Five Cents, Which Will Insure Large Attendance.

Jacksonville, Dec. 20.—The greatest competitive series of airship flights ever undertaken in America, since those which occurred in St. Louis the week of October 22nd, 1907, will be inaugurated at the Florida Mid-Winter International Exposition in Jacksonville for two weeks, commencing February 1st, 1908.

Arrangements have been completed and these tests will take place under the auspices of the Jacksonville Motor Club; and they will bring together the world's greatest airship navigators—in fact, the winners of the great dirigible balloon race in St. Louis on Wednesday, October 23rd. Lincoln J. Beachey will make an effort to break the record he made on that occasion, which, by the way, was a flight of a mile and a half in four minutes and forty seconds; made at St. Louis, using the powerful airship "Beachey" on that occasion.

This airship is equipped with an eight horse-power four-cylinder gasoline motor, weighing 82 pounds, with a 9-foot propeller and a rudder with four wings to it. He bucked the wind, which was at a fifteen-mile-an-hour breeze, made every turn of the course, landing back where he started from as lightly as a feather, amid the unbounded enthusiasm of 75,000 spectators. Jack Dallas of Toledo won the second prize, his time being six minutes and ten seconds. All of these prize-winners will be present in Jacksonville to compete once more.

Challenge has been made by Lincoln J. Beachey against the Wild Airship for a $10,000 race at Jacksonville, during the exposition. It is not likely, however, that anyone will accept Mr. Beachey's challenge. These aerial flights will form the greatest attraction ever brought to Florida, and in themselves stamp the Mid-Winter Exposition at Jacksonville as being an event of magnitude and importance, even if nothing else should do so.

Other great attractions and free acts at the Florida Mid-Winter Exposition during the continuance, will be Pain's fire spectacle, employing 400 people to produce it, at a cost of $4,000 a night; Ellery's Royal Italian Band of fifty musicians cost the exposition management $3,000 a week; James E. Hardy, the Wire King; Miller's Trained Elephants; Bostock's Famous Animal Arena; The Infant Incubators; Sorcho's Deep Sea Divers, and the hundred and one free acts, special demonstrations, shows and amusement devices. Of course, the most important object will be the exhibition of Florida's great manufacturing and natural resources. Almost every county in the State will be represented by either official or individual exhibits. The low price of admission of twenty-five cents will be fixed by the management.

A Painful Accident.

Mr. Carter, assistant engineer at the light plant, was the victim of a painful accident Thursday afternoon losing two fingers of his right hand being fully mutilated by coming in contact with a part of the machinery. He was taken to his home as soon as the accident occurred, and a doctor was summoned. The injuries not serious, however.

DEATH OF A GOOD MAN.

C. E. DeLand Passed Away Very Suddenly Friday—Funeral Today.

Friends regretted Friday to learn of the death of Mr. C. E. DeLand, which occurred suddenly at his home on East Church street. The deceased had suffered for some time from catarrh of the stomach, but during the past few days he was afflicted with rheumatism in his limbs, which went to his heart and caused his death.

Deceased was fifty-three years of age. He was a native of Illinois, but has been here for ten or twelve years. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Micanopy, and a man well liked and popular in the community. Deceased was also a member of the Methodist church of this city, and was an active member as long as his health would permit.

He is survived by a widow and five children—two sons and three daughters—to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence at 2:30, Rev. T. J. Nixon officiating. Gainesville Lodge No. 41, F. and A. M., will take charge of the services at the cemetery. Friends are invited.

Masonic Notice.

There will be a special communication of Gainesville Lodge No. 41, F. and A. M., in Masonic hall at 1:30 p. m. today for the purpose of accompanying to their last resting place and performing the last sad rites over the remains of our late Brother C. E. DeLand of Micanopy Lodge No. 29.

By order of D. M. TOMKIES, W. M.
ROBT. M'CLELLAN, Secretary.

Death at Trenton.

Information reached this city Friday of the death of Thurman D. Leslie, which occurred at Trenton on Thursday.

Mr. Leslie was a young man well known and popular, and his death caused regret among his friends. He has for the past few months been one of the popular employes of Wade & Bell, contractors.

The remains were embalmed by Dr. T. F. Thomas and sent to his former home in Tarver, Ga.

Deceased is survived by a wife and one child, to whom the sympathy of friends is extended.

Mrs. Worthington Dead.

Mrs. E. M. Worthington, twenty-six years of age, died at her home in North Gainesville Thursday, after a continued illness.

Deceased was a devout Christian, and was loved by all who knew her.

The remains were turned over to the Thomas Undertaking Company and shipped to Otter Creek, near which place the interment was held.

HOGS THE PROPER THING.

J. H. Blackwell of Fairbanks Tells What He Knows About Them.

Among those who spent Friday in Gainesville were J. H. Blackwell and his son-in-law, P. L. Hardee, who is visiting Mr. Blackwell for a few weeks.

Mr. Blackwell has made a study of hogs, and has got the profession of hog-raising down to a fine point. Few men in the country know more about it, and his talk is interesting and his suggestions valuable.

Mr. Blackwell states that he has just sold to W. W. Colson a foundation stand for the farm he is interested in in Gulf Hammock, near Cedar Key. This foundation comprises a number of Berkshire and Rhode Island Guinea hogs, the latter of which are noted for quick and fast fattening, and firmness. Mr. Blackwell brought his original strand from Georgia, and declares there is nothing better in the world, when it comes to pork for this section. He very naturally affirms that the people of this section should raise pork not too heavy or too fat, but of a firm substance, which gives the weight and the "heft," to use the expression. In other words, they want firmness, with not an over surplus of fat, as is seen sometimes in the colder climates.

"While a hog may not appear as fat in this section as he ought to be," said Mr. Blackwell, "we must remember that it is not always the absolute fatness which brings results, but the fact that the hog is a large boned animal, well developed, and something which is bound to 'weigh up' when brought to the test."

Mr. Blackwell contends that the hog for this country need not necessarily be a hog over-grown with fat. He does not wish to be understood that he says the fatness is unnecessary, but that a large-boned hog of medium fatness is a great deal better for our farmers than a small-boned hog overly-fat. The hog fares better and the meat comes clearer and more satisfactory when the former conditions exist.

As the best evidence that Mr. Blackwell knows what he is talking about, it may be said that he has already placed in cold storage this year about 2,000 pounds of pork, and has plenty to spare, as he will butcher and sell a great deal more before the close of the season. He believes in cold storage, and says it's the only way a man can safely save his meat these days.

Mr. Blackwell, in connection with his meat, will also make from 600 to 700 pounds of lard this year.

WYLIE IS A CAKE-WALKER.

Fine Horse Showed His Ability at the Work Friday Morning.

The fine horse "Wylie," for a long time owned by Col. I. E. Webster but recently purchased by W. R. Thomas, showed his ability as a cake-walker Friday morning, and to Col. Webster belongs the credit of exemplifying his integrity.

When the local band was giving its morning concert this valuable animal was led out into the street and did a "stunt" in cake-walking which created a great deal of amusement, and in fact came near breaking up the band as even the musicians noted his cleverness, and came near forgetting to fill their parts.

"Wylie" is a great horse, and Col. Webster is to be congratulated on having trained him so well.

BIG FIRE AT ST. PETERSBURG

Man Attempts Suicide at Miami—Man Killed at Argyle and Woman at Muscogee—Child Dies from Snake-bite. Other Notes.

St. Petersburg was visited by a $40,000 fire, and before the fire demon had departed the Colonial Hotel and several other buildings were in ashes.

Four saloons were visited by thieves in Jacksonville Wednesday morning. They were probably only laying in a stock of whiskey to carry them over Christmas.

A negro child died in Miami last week from the results of a rattlesnake bite. The child was attacked while playing in the back-yard. She only lived about six hours after bitten.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Holloway has just returned to Tallahassee from a tour of inspection over the State, and reports that all of the schools are in better condition than ever before.

G. A. Wood was shot and killed by Alexander Anderson, both of Argyle, Fla., a day or two ago. The two had been drinking. Anderson was arrested and the next morning said that he knew nothing of the shooting.

R. E. Turner, a white barber of Miami, tried to commit suicide by taking poison. Turner has been forsaken by his wife and this has preyed upon his mind to the extent that he attempted the rash act. He will recover, however.

Mac McCullough, a negro employed by the Southern States Lumber Mills at Muscogee, shot and killed Dorothy Union and wounded Chaney Union, all because the women refused to bring his breakfast to the mill. The negro fled and is being chased with bloodhounds.

Thos. W. Troy is on trial at Miami this week for manslaughter, the case growing out of the killing of Geo. Newcomb at that place last summer. Little progress has been made in the selection of the jury, as the greater number of those summoned had expressed opinions either for or against the accused.

There is a movement on foot in Pensacola to have all pool rooms in that city close at 9 o'clock, the same time that the saloons are compelled to close. This movement was due to a statement of Chief of Police Saunders to the effect that negroes who are compelled to leave the saloons at 9 o'clock each night congregate in large numbers in pool rooms in certain sections of the city, and carrying liquor with them, remain there throughout the night, and the places are as disorderly and objectionable as though the saloons were allowed to remain open as formerly.

STATE FAIR AT TAMPA.

Railroads Will Put on Extra Accommodations to Handle the Crowds.

Tampa, Dec. 20.—In order to properly accommodate the vast crowds that will attend the great Florida State Fair, which will be held at Tampa from February 5 to 22, the railroads traversing and otherwise interested in in the State are already making extensive preparations. Passenger Traffic Manager W. J. Craig of the Atlantic Coast Line has written President T. J. L. Brown that his road will greatly increase the number of passenger coaches used in Florida, and the Seaboard and other roads will do likewise. "Travel to Florida during the Fair," said Mr. Craig, "will be nothing short of immense, all past records being broken, and I hope every county in the State will be represented by a magnificent exhibit. The Fair will furnish the opportunity of a lifetime to advertise the wonderful resources of Florida. Please get every county possible in line." Letters of the same character have been received by President Brown from the high officials of practically every railroad entering the Southern States, all realizing that the Fair will not only help Florida, but other States as well.

MR. FISH IN OCALA.

Man Who Disappeared Here is Heard From in Marion County's Capital.

Word has been received in this city that Chas. H. Fish, the man who suddenly left this city, leaving all his effects to Wm. Goore, has been seen in Ocala.

There was no reason for Mr. Fish leaving the city so mysteriously, so far as can be learned, as he owed nobody a penny. He was last heard of at Evinston, where he was wandering around in a semi-conscious condition. From that point he must have taken the train to Ocala.

Mr. Fish has been delirious from recent illness, and his friends here fear that he is probably not in quite his right mind. There was no reason for his leaving Gainesville, other than the fact that he did not think he was doing as well in his business as he expected to have done.

Anthony Little, a colored man, captured a young wild-cat near the Sink Thursday, after a most exciting struggle in which he got the best of his catship.

While the cat was small, it proved to be a very vicious and active animal, and put up a good fight. The cat is now confined in a box at the plant of the Gainesville Gas and Electric Power Company, where it has attracted a great deal of attention.

TIED TO TREES AND SHOT.

Yaqui Indians Murder Party of Travelers in Mexico.

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 20.—Information which has just reached here tells of the frightful murder of twelve men by a band of 150 Yaqui Indians, 45 miles southeast of Magdalena, state of Sonora, Mexico, last Wednesday. P. J. McIntyre and a party of mining men of this section have arrived from the scene, where they viewed the remains of the murdered men.

The Yaquis captured the party of thirteen men. Among the number was Jose Fernandez, son of President Fernandez, of the town of Cucurpe and owner of the Mescal plantation, where the killing occurred. The others were Mexican laborers on the ranch and some Canea miners looking for work.

One American was among the number, but he was rescued by men who told him that they were Americans. The remaining twelve were stripped naked, stood up against trees and shot.

A band of Yaquis is reported to be on the warpath.

BLUSHING BRIDES OBJECTED.

"Honeymoon Special" Train Had No Attractions for Them.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—S. A. Hutchinson, manager of the tourist department of the Chicago and Northwestern and Union Pacific railroads, recently decided to inaugurate a "Honeymoon Special." The train was to start Wednesday night with a load of blushing brides and tongue-tied bridegrooms.

However, a story was printed about the train and the brides read it.

Would they go through Omaha, Kansas City and other towns where the inhabitants go upon kodak sprees and snapshot everything in sight? No, the brides saw themselves on the train and their pictures being distributed through the newspapers of the country, as they stood on the rear platform of the observation car leaning upon their bridegroom's arm while he tried to look comfortable.

They could not stand that, so they wrote in, at least twenty of them did, and said they would take other trains

So, the widely-advertised "Honeymoon Special" did not start The newly married couples took train No. 1, which left early in the evening, and were whirled away to the coast like ordinary travelers.

SWALLOWED 144 NEEDLES.

Peculiar Attempt of New York Woman To End Her Life.

New York, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Mollie Desmond, who, in a fit of desperation several months ago attempted to take her own life by swallowing 144 needles, is dying in the Fordham hospital, but the needles are not directly responsible for her death.

The last of twenty-four operations for the removal of the needles was performed on Sunday. That night she was taken with a severe case of coughing and the wounds of the operation were opened, causing great loss of blood.

The doctors hold out no hope for her recovery.

Jacksonville is becoming more metropolitan each day. Two suicides occurred there on Thursday morning.

Mr. Taft's boom revives, Mr. Knox's, after a week's plunge is quiescent, Mr. Foraker's, like faith, "the evidence of things, not seen."

Senator Tom Platt has introduced a National corporations' bill, but is as mum as a clam about the President's suggested parcels post.

Mrs. Howard Gould's effort to induce the court that a $700 skirt is a necessity, will result in making some young men think once more before leaping into matrimony.

The Christmas number of The Gainesville Elevator which appeared Thursday is a neatly-printed, well-gotten-up paper, and contains some interesting matter of a Yule-tide nature.

The fire alarm that Foraker sent in has produced a peck of trouble for the Republican politicians of Ohio, and the fire is burning brightly and will not be extinguished before spring, and not then unless the factions can both work together on the old Republican machine.

With his smoke-house full of meat and his crib full of corn and his bank overcrowded with sweet potatoes, the farmer of Florida can look the financial situation square in the face and say "go to the devil." The Florida farmer as a rule is the most independent mortal the earth ever produced, if he will only realize it.

Since the great fire of May 3, 1901, Jacksonville has erected 7,399 buildings at a cost of $20,856,191. Not bad. Now let somebody get up the statistics showing the number of candidates for State and Federal offices Jacksonville has produced during the current year. Those figures would also doubtless be impressive.—Live Oak Democrat.

The Southern Educational Association will hold its annual meeting at Lexington, Kentucky, on December 26-28, where the Conference for Education in the South met nearly two years ago. The local committees are making arrangements for entertainment, and every effort is being made to make it a profitable and enjoyable occasion.

Many of the weekly papers of the State have issued special holiday numbers—some large, some small—and it would be difficult to accord to each an individual notice, but they all reflect credit upon the publishers and the cities from which they come, all of which is evidence that the people of Florida are in a prosperous condition.

The first symptom of revolt that has been heard in the Sixtieth Congress against alleged executive aggression was heard when Senator Heyburn of Idaho protested vigorously against the practice of laying before the Senate communications from cabinet officers transmitting drafts of bills to be enacted into law. The Senator referred particularly to a communication from the Secretary of the Interior. Many Senators agreed that only the Secretary of the Treasury had the right to submit such communications.

INDUSTRIES AND RAW MATERIAL.

How industries follow the preservation and cultivation of forests may be seen in the fact that with the growth of the Government pine forests wood-pulp factories sprang up in Germany in large numbers, as well as factories for the manufacture of sash, doors, flooring, barrels, boxes, buttons and covers for musical instruments, and a great variety of other articles. Some 4,000 establishments, employing close to 60,000 people, have grown up in the mountain regions of Saxony alone, where prior to the growth of her pine forests, the country was comparatively non-productive.

Attention may be called to the fact that one hundred years ago Germany was suffering from a timber famine such as is now coming upon us. There was much agitation over the matter and the result was the establishment of the public forests in various German States, and the inauguration of careful forestry upon private estates.

The development of these wood-working industries following a liberal supply of wood is similar to the experience of Cass Lake, Minnesota, near which place a National forest has been located, against the opposition of the neighboring inhabitants. A crate and box-board factory has since been started at Cass Lake because of the presence of the National forest with its permanent supply of wood. The people of the village naturally take pleasure in the new industry with all that it means. This was described at length in the Forest Service Department of the August issue of The Forestry and Irrigation Magazine.

Raw materials are the first essential to all factories. How important then to secure a sufficient supply of raw material in the way of wood, when so many of our manufacturing industries use this as the substance from which they make their products.

So far productive forestry has been considered exclusively as a business for the market. It must be confessed that the outlook for this sort of investment in the United States, although not hopeless, is not very promising. However, there is another form of private forestry which seems to be much more adapted to American conditions, and, consequently, now making fairly rapid progress. This is the management of forests, not to produce for the open market, but to raise raw materials needed in a particular enterprise under the same ownership. A very large part of American timber lands is now in the hands of manufacturing concerns holding them for this very purpose. As owners expect to stand in need of raw material for an indefinite time, they are rapidly adopting conservative lumbering, and will in all probability arrive at the productive forestry stage in due time. Analogous are the forestry undertakings of railway corporations, such as plantations for growing ties. Forests devoted to such purposes might be called "auxiliary forests," distinguishing them from those managed as separate enterprises, for which one might coin the technical term "autonomous forests." With the auxiliary forests should be classed also the great number of farm timber lots. This system of forestry is at the present time little known in Europe, and in the treatises of European writers is often treated as an undeveloped stage. However that may be, it seems to hold out the only promise of vigorous development of private forestry in the United States. It seems now highly probable that the general public will in the future, after the exhaustion of the natural supply, have to rely principally on timber grown in public forests. This opens up the question of a very considerable extension of the reserve policy, especially in the hardwood regions.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

Well, the fleet is off. It made a great show, which must have delighted the heart of the militant commander-in-chief. How far it will go and when it will get back, or if all of it will ever get back, are open questions. Nobody seems to know just what the program is. Rear Admiral Evans doesn't know. In New York the other day he said that he and the vessels were going for "a feast, a frolic or a fight," he didn't know which, but that they would all try to give a good account of themselves, whichever it might be. Nobody doubts that. The United States Navy, manned by sailors from every section of the country and by far the most of them native born, is as good and dependable as any afloat on any sea. We sincerely hope that the cruise will prove to be merely a "feast and a frolic," but if there is any scrapping to be done our boys will take care of themselves.—Savannah News.

The Sun's Washington correspondent says: "The Democratic National Committee in selecting Denver as the site of the next Democratic National Convention, fixed the date as July 7, or later than the Republican convention. With Roosevelt out of it, it is almost certain that Bryan will be the man nominated by the Democrats, and, judging by the remarks of prominent politicians, he stands about the best show he ever had to gain the victory. At the present time, with many of his policies adapted to the Roosevelt-ian line, and in harmony with the opinions of the people, with some of his old, unacceptable theories put back on the shelves, he is stronger with the people than ever before. It is the consnsus of opinion that the coming fight will be just as close and interesting as it possibly can be."

There has been some complaint among the merchants as to lack of Christmas trade, and some of them attribute this to the financial stringency; but they are mistaken. It is no financial stringency, but merely for the reason that the planters have been holding their cotton for better prices, and in the great majority of instances the cotton has not been sold. The planters are determined to see Wall street gamblers out to the finish, which has a tendency to cripple them for the present, financially, but which will work out to the satisfaction of our people in the end. The planter has the cotton, and the markets have got to have it. It's only a matter of time when it will bring to the owner what it is worth—and then money will be plentiful.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GARABALDI'S WOOING.

Magnetic Daring With Which Anita Riberas Was Won and Wedded.

The whole life of the great Italian liberator, Garibaldi, was one of romantic adventure, but nothing else in it was more romantic than his wooing, which is described in his own narrative. He had been driven from Italy in 1836 and landed in South America, where he joined the struggle then being carried on by several small states against the empire of Brazil. He had with him many devoted comrades, whom he loved with his whole heart. One day, however, he was shipwrecked on the Brazilian coast of Santa Catharina, and several of his dearest friends were drowned in getting to shore. The survivors at once joined the local army, led a successful attack on Laguna and were hailed as liberators. Garibaldi was made chief of the captured Brazilian fleet. He paced up and down the deck of his flagship, but in no victor's mood. The loss of so many friends had filled him with melancholy, and he began to feel his loneliness. His mind turned to a natural remedy. He determined to seek a bride among these people who so idolized him.

"The loss of Luigi, Edoardo and others of my countrymen," he wrote in his own story, "left me utterly isolated. I felt quite alone in the world. I needed a human heart to love me, one that I could always keep near me. I felt that unless I found one at once life would become intolerable.

"By chance I cast my eyes toward the houses of the Barra, a hill on the south side of the entrance to the lagoon, where a few simple and picturesque dwellings were visible. Outside one of these by means of my telescope I espied a young woman, and forthwith I gave orders for my boat to be got out, as I wished to go ashore."

This girl was Anita Riberas, eighteen years old, a young woman of unusual beauty, of great bodily strength and endurance and of an unusually fine type of intellect, as romantic as Garibaldi and as untiring as he in her labors for liberty.

"I landed," says Garibaldi, "and, making for the houses where I expected to find the object of my excursion, I had just given up hopes of seeing her again when I met an inhabitant of the place whose acquaintance I had made soon after our arrival. He invited me to take coffee in his house.

"We entered, and the first person who met my eyes was the damsel who had attracted me ashore. We both remained enraptured and silent, gazing on one another like two people who meet not for the first time and who seek in each others' faces something that will make it easier to recall a forgotten past. At last I greeted her with the words in Italian, 'Thou oughtest to be mine.'

"My insolence was magnetic. I had formed a tie, pronounced a decree, which death alone could annul."

The young woman was at that time betrothed by her father to a wealthy suitor whom she had refused to marry. As her father and the rest had no determined, however, Garibaldi must option the extremely welcome. In a have she had given her life to him.

Her father refusing to change her destiny, Garibaldi came ashore with a small party a few nights later and carried her off by force—with her entire consent—and they were married at another port.

Later, when he was fighting for Uruguayan independence, she rode with him through privation and starvation over the prairies, and on one march, while they rode together, he carried their three months' old son in a handkerchief slung round his neck.

Never were man and wife more passionately devoted to each other than these two, and when in the terrible retreat from Rome in 1849 she succumbed to fever and died in a hut in the marshes of the Po delta it seemed to the soldier that not only the light of Italy but the light of life itself had gone out.

Political Methods In Japan.

Lafcadio Hearn through his wife and a few pupils had access to the intimacies and courtesies, the customs and legends and superstitions of the past, which made his happiness. But the necessities of his livelihood brought him into contact with a colder world of polite, critical, practical persons, whose habits of mind jarred at every point on his more wayward and egotional spirit. Writing on behalf of a western friend, whom he considered to have been harshly treated by oriental employers, he said bitterly: "Japanese officialdom is not lovable, and it is oriental when unpleasant. It does not say, 'Here, if you don't like things, get out; here's your salary!' On the contrary, it suddenly becomes cooing, caressing, infinitely sweet, and invites you out for multitudinous insult. Then you are suddenly surrounded by snarling combinations unimagined and unimaginable and softly struck in a hundred ways. A knockdown blow is nothing to it. I pity a man of letters in the government service in Tokyo."—Craftsman.

Already a large number of sidings have ...n laid, all nicely surfaced, and ...large tract of land belonging to ...company, including the old base... grounds, has been fenced in. No. 100 is in daily use and was standing on a siding under full steam when the reporter visited the yards. A solid train of palatial vestibuled coaches stands waiting to be used whenever business warrants or the road is opened farther north. These cars are of the most modern pattern and are equipped with every safety appliance. The new passenger coaches are Nos. 400, 401 and 402. On a siding which will be used as the main track to Tampa when the road is finished across the meadow stand a row of flat cars nearly half a mile long. The Tampa Northern still uses the Seaboard tracks to leave the city, but will have their own track completed at an early date.

"Entire yards of the Tampa Northern are a scenery of busy industry, a large force of men being constantly employed setting up new cars, repainting old ones, laying tracks and building the temporary roundhouse. A blacksmith shop has been built on the ground and is kept constantly in use. A watertank was placed some time ago just outside the yards on the main line, between the tracks of the Seaboard and the Atlantic Coast Line. At Palmetto Beach, a temporary station, freight, ticket and telegraph office has been opened in a neat structure. It is expected that a station will be erected at Gary soon."

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bilious or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

TRIED TO SMOKE OUT FAMILY.

Man Deliberately Set Fire to House in Which Wife Lay Bedridden.

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 20—Thomas McCann Wednesday deliberately set fire to the house in which his wife lay bedridden.

Their daughter rushed through the smoke and flame and carried her sick mother to safety. Both women were slightly burned and nearly suffocated. They will recover.

McCann later gave himself up to the police, saying that the house was his and he had a right to burn it if he wanted to. His family refused to leave the house, he said, and he was trying to smoke them out.

To Enlighten the Thibetans.

Pekin, Dec. 20—The throne has sanctioned the construction of a telegraph line into Lassa, the capital of Tibet, and the residence of the supreme head of the Lamaist hierarchy. This undertaking was recommended by the Chinese residents at Lhassa, who, since the advent of the British in 1904, have been working for the enlightenment of the Thibetans. The throne furthermore will give hospitals, schools and mail service to Lhassa, and it is rumored that a request has been for permission to publish a newspaper there.

Signed Treaty of Amity.
